> Kindhearted TNB

Allow me to express through this column a big thank you to TNB (Tenaga Nasional Berhad) workers who assisted me last Wednesday. It wasn't actually their task, because they had traced the break in supply to an internal fault; TNB's responsibilities end at the electricity meter, any problems after that is the homeowner's to deal with. But after I implored them to help as it was almost dark, they kindly obliged and, to the relief of these two senior citizens, supply was restored. Now that's good corporate PR.
