Police bust illegal crypto mining operation in PKFZ

KUALA LUMPUR: Police have shut down an illegal digital currency mining operation at a warehouse in Port Klang Free Zone (PKFZ) following a raid yesterday.

South Klang police chief Assistant Commissioner Lim Jit Huey said the 9.30am raid involved personnel from the Criminal Investigation Department, in collaboration with Tenaga Nasional Bhd technicians and PKFZ auxiliary policemen.

“During the raid, two men aged 20 and 31, including a foreign national, were detained.

“All equipment believed to have been used in the digital currency mining activity was seized to assist investigations.”

He said police were investigating when the cryptocurrency mining operation at the warehouse began.

A case has been opened for mischief and misuse of electricity supply.
