> Embrace smart meters
 TNB (Tenaga Nasional Bhd) has in recent days begun installing smart meters – my home now has one. For those who might view these new meters suspiciously, let me share how they serve consumers: They track power consumption accurately so you can see your daily power use and try to reduce it, and they provide greater transparency in the billing process. Also, they are Sirim-approved. I hope TNB will be installing them nationwide, and soon.
