> Adopt sustainable practices

Referring to "Energy award winners lead the way" (Sunday Star, March 10; online at bit.ly/48Jd577), as a consumer advocate, I appreciate the path taken by the winners to opt for sustainable and efficient energy practices. As individuals, we can do our bit to save energy by, for example, simply switching off electrical appliances when not in use. These include lights, fans and air conditioners. I was also very glad to read in the article that Malaysia will phase out coal-fired power plants and stop developing new ones. – Bulbir Singh, Seremban
